

SIR

Sir! can you get some wire?
Sir! this won't go no higher!
Sir! will you cut this on the band saw?
Sir! I'm not doing this any more.
Sir! can you show me how to solder?
Sir! Shane's just scribbled on my folder!
Sir! But sir! I did it like you said!
Sir! this wire you gave me should be red!
Sir! Kim's hurt her thumb - it hurts a lot.
Sir! I only touched the iron to see if it was hot!
Sir! I need a PCB*. Sir! I need to etch.
Sir! The circuit's broken! It don't look like your sketch!
Sir! I need a drink before I die of thirst!
Sir! - that's not fair, sir! - I asked first!
Sir! I've broke the wire on my resistor!
Sir! I really need that new transistor!
Sir! Where's the ... no, sir, help me now or ...
Sir! I've been waiting for over an hour!
Sir! Is it true that we're having a test?
Sir! I wasn't here when you told the rest!
Sir! There's blood - oh, no its only ink!
Sir! There's somefink nasty blocking up the sink!
Sir! The alarm bell—is it a fire?
Sir! I'm still waiting for my wire!
Sir! Sir! Where's sir gone? He's in the store,
Protected by the sign that says
STAFF ONLY on the door.
